

CHAPTER 3

ITEM RECORDS

Bibliographic (bib) records are the author, title, and publication data in MARC format. Item records are attached to bib records. There can be many item records attached to a single bib record.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR ITEM RECORDS

Item records contain the unique information to the member library. Members may use either Dewey Decimal or LC call numbers. AG accepts both classifications. The following are minimum requirements needed for an item record:

- Barcode
- Call Number
- Material Type
- Location (Current and Permanent)
- Status
- Cost

ADDING ITEMS

Staff must be logged in.

Search for the bibliographic record by the known information on the item in hand (ISBN, LCCN, or Title).

In this case the ISBN was searched. Alternatively, the UPC symbol on the back cover can be scanned with a barcode reader. Click on the cover image to open the full bib record.

Use the drop-down menus to select the material type, locations, and status. The values displayed in the drop-down menus are the first in the list and usually must be changed.

The requirements for correct item entry consist of:

- barcode,
- material type (choose from the drop-down menu),
- current location,
- permanent location (usually the same as current),
- item call number,
- status, and
- cost (do not enter the dollar $ sign).

Click SUBMIT to save.

An alternative way to add item records: open Dashboard > Cat Admin / Circulation > Add Item.

Search for the bib record.

Select and open to the full bib record.

CHAPTER 3

There is no maximum number of item records which can be attached to a bib record. However, there are a maximum number of item records which can be OPENED in AGCat. If a bib record has more than 52 items, AGCat will not open the HLD in the bib record. Also when the bib record is opened in AGCat, no HLD lines appear WITHIN the bib.

CHAPTER 3

Item holdings may be added while in AGcat. When a bib record is open, Select the HLD icon on the AGcat toolbar,

Item Template

or select Insert / Tag HLD.

CHAPTER 3

Complete the template for the item holding and select OK to save. Click the gold barrel icon on the AGcat toolbar to Save to Database. To access the item record again, double click on the HLD line to open in the template.

If an item barcode is not entered and if TBA remains displayed in the Barcode field, the system will generate a barcode when the record is submitted. System-generated barcodes end with an asterisk which is part of the barcode. System-generated barcodes are preferred only for electronic items.

If AUTO is displayed in the Barcode field, the system will generate the next barcode available when the record is submitted. We do not use the Auto setting. The item holding information can be seen in the field HLD.

A screenshot of the 'Edit Item' form in the AGcat system. The title bar reads 'Edit Item - Source: LMN_ - AGCN=558317, Record Type = BK T'. The form contains several fields: 'Barcode' with the value '32350000001000', 'Copy' (empty), 'Material Type' set to 'NonFiction', 'Current Location' and 'Permanent Location' both set to 'Library Management Network, Inc. - Adult - Nonfiction', 'Owner Location' (empty), 'Prefix' (empty), 'Suffix' (empty), 'Item Call Number' set to 'F Pea', 'Status' set to 'Available', and 'Cost' set to '25.'. There is also an 'Alternate ID' field at the bottom which is partially visible.

The black X in the upper right corner closes the record and leaves AGcat open.
The red X in the upper right corner closes both the record and AGcat.

To verify, search for the newly entered bib record by AGCN.

CHAPTER 3

Material Type Descriptions and Definitions

Material types are codes used in the item records that provide the following:

- calculate loan rules,
- define items in web display,
- provide statistical reports,
- send notices (e.g., overdues), and
- collection development.

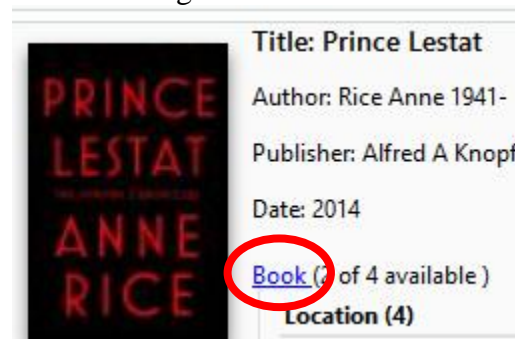

Material type definitions were initially formulated by the Bibliographic Users Group and have been revised as electronic versions appeared or as libraries consolidated formats.

Material types should describe the content of the material and define the intended audience. These guidelines are useful in defining the particular material type.

Members can select whichever material types their library will use. Members do not have to use every material type listed. There are variations, such as one member may use DVD Adult and DVD Juvenile, where another member may use DVD Fic and DVD NF; or one may use just Large Print, where another uses Large Print Biography, Large Print Fiction, and Large Print Nonfiction.

However, it is of the utmost importance to BE CONSISTENT entering data within each member library.

Formats are codes used in the bib records and are the source for the descriptive wording in the online catalog.

Bib formats are associated with material types in generally explaining the format of the item.

The following table shows the relationship of Material Type to Formats.

Next, is a list of bib Formats not currently being used in the LMN database.

The third table is a list of bib Formats and all the associated Material Types.

CHAPTER 3

If items of a particular status (ex. Missing, Deleted, etc.) need to be deleted, multiple items can be deleted all at one time in batch using Circ Reports > Delete Item Exceptions based on the specific status or location. “Exceptions” are the same as “Status.”

Many libraries need a count of deleted items at the end of a year, so it is best to obtain a count or list of deleted items before being removed from the database.

Please contact the LMN Office to submit these programs and do not submit these reports yourself.

After the items are deleted, then the report Delete Bibs Without Items can be submitted.

COPY FIELD INFORMATION

The Copy field in an item record designates multiple copies of a title. In the online catalog, copy information displays after the call number. Because the barcode can serve as the unique or accession number, copy 1 information is no longer necessary.

If a copy 2 of a title is purchased and needs to be designated, enter just the numeral “2” in the Copy field of the item record. AG system automatically inserts “c.” prefix identifying designation for copy information in the online catalog.

ENUMERATION FIELD INFORMATION

The AG system will insert prefixes automatically, such as a “v.” before the volume number, “pt.” before a part, and “no.” before an issue. No spaces should be entered.

The Volume field displays after the call number in the online catalog. To enter volume information, just enter the number, i.e., “2” in the Volume field of the item record.

For displaying in the online catalog, the system counts 1, 11, 111, 2, 22, 222, 3, 33, 333, etc., not 1, 2, 5, 10, 25, 36.

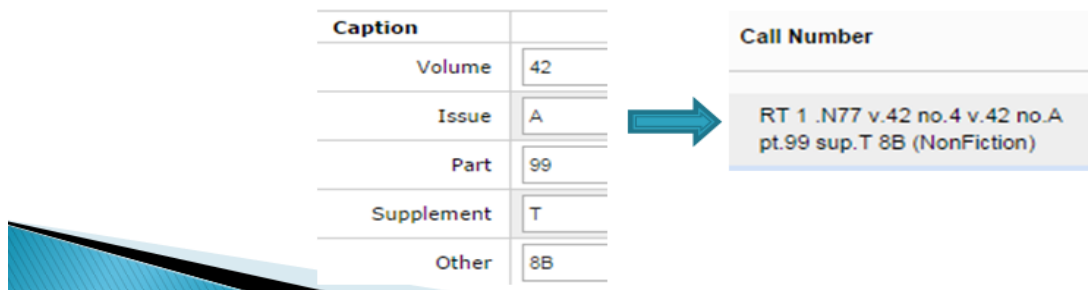

Volume numbers should be added in a consistent manner. Spaces are appropriate after years or between elements.

The following specifications are allowed for monographic items:

|            |                                                                |

CHAPTER 3

TRANSFERRING ITEM RECORDS

To take advantage of the icons, wording, and status in the online catalog, the database requires separate bib records for:

- DVD and Blu-ray
- eBook and book
- book and large print

When an item gets attached incorrectly to a bib record, the item can be transferred - so as to not lose any circulation transactions. The first example is of a bib record with items for both DVD and Blu-Ray. Because the first bib record has an icon for Blu-Ray, the DVD item - needs to be moved to the DVD bib record.

CHAPTER 3

Highlight the blue line of the bib record that will LOSE the holding.
Place cursor on the exact HLD line to be moved
Then select Edit > Cut or CTRL+X or scissors

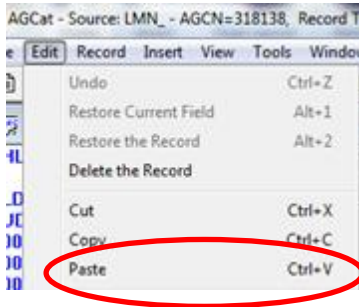

The item will be removed from that bib record.
Save to Database by clicking the gold barrel. Then, Close the first bib record that Lost the holding.

Now highlight the blue line of the second bib record to GAIN the holding.

Select Edit > Paste or CTRL + V and the removed item (HLD) is inserted into the correct bib.

Both items appear on the correct bib record now.

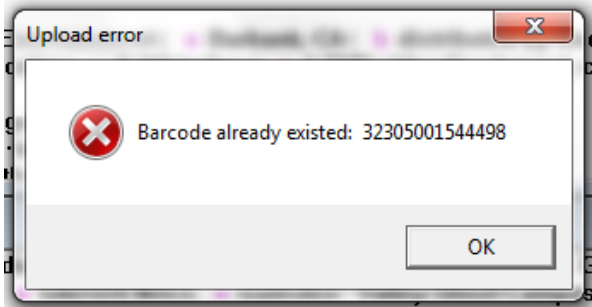

Save to Database by clicking the gold barrel.

CHAPTER 3

This message may appear when trying to save the second bib record.

The message occurs when the first bib record remains open and was not closed. Close the first bib record. And then save the second bib record to not get this message.
